Mercado Aurora: Order Cancellation Policy

Document POL-03 | Version 2 | Effective 1 January 2018 | Owner: Customer Experience

1. Purpose

This policy sets out when an order can be cancelled, by whom, and what happens to the payment.

2. Cancellation by the customer

A customer may cancel an order free of charge at any time before its status changes to shipped. Once an order is shipped it can no longer be cancelled. The customer may refuse the delivery or return the item under POL-01, Returns and Refunds Policy.

3. Automatic cancellation of unpaid orders

An order paid by boleto is cancelled automatically if the boleto is not paid within 3 business days of the order being placed. An order paid by card is cancelled automatically if the card is declined and the customer does not provide another payment method within 24 hours.

4. Cancellation by the seller

A seller may cancel an order only when the item cannot be supplied. The order status is then set to unavailable. Each seller cancellation counts towards the seller's cancellation rate under POL-07, Seller Performance Standards, and the seller is charged a fee of R$5.00 per cancelled order under POL-06, Seller Fees and Payouts.

5. Cancellation by Mercado Aurora

Mercado Aurora may cancel an order when fraud is suspected, when the listing breaks POL-09, Prohibited and Restricted Items, or when an order has not been dispatched 10 business days after its shipping limit date.

6. Cancellation for late delivery

If an order has not been delivered 30 calendar days after its estimated delivery date, the customer may cancel it and receive a full refund of the item price and freight.

7. Refunds for cancelled orders

When a paid order is cancelled, the full amount paid, including freight, is refunded within 5 business days by the original payment method. Refund methods are the same as in section 5 of POL-01.
